

Propolis Platinum<sup>TM</sup> Nature's Gift to Mankind

Propolis Platinum is a non-alcoholic liquid propolis from Brazil which is renowned for producing green propolis. Collected by bees from the unpolluted Brazilian tropical rainforest, propolis is a natural resin produced by bees to strengthen and protect their hives from infections. Scientific research has shown that regular use of propolis helps to strengthen the body's immune system and therefore is beneficial for the maintenance of our general well-being.

Functions of Propolis Platinum

Propolis Platinum possesses rich bioflavonoid content. Bioflavonoids stimulate white blood cells that help to improve the body's immune system. Flavonoids of Propolis Platinum are plant compounds that have high quality antioxidant properties.

Benefits of Propolis Platinum

The flavonoid content in Propolis Platinum stimulates the production of antibodies that help strengthen the body's immune system.

Supercritical Field CO<sub>2</sub> Extraction

Liquid propolis is more beneficial because it can reach the stomach and intestines directly without the process of digestion. The liquid form of propolis is absorbed faster by our body to experience the benefits of propolis. Propolis Platinum is manufactured with advanced Supercritical Field CO<sub>2</sub> Extraction in order to maintain its original content of bioflavonoids that is good for human health.

Identifying the Quality of Propolis

Propolis is produced in Brazil, China, Australia, Argentina, Chile, Uruguay, Mexico, U.S.A. and England. The quality of propolis depends on its country of origin. Different colours of propolis also indicate its grades in quality. According to Dr. Kishita in his book titled "The Wonder Treatment of Propolis", analysis on the propolis of various countries revealed that propolis from Brazil, especially from the resins of Eucalyptus possesses high quality.

Propolis comes in various colours such as brown, yellow, green, etc. that portray their quality. The high quality one is green propolis from Brazil, which has rich plant life diversity in the world.

Why is it important to consume Propolis Platinum daily?

1. In our daily lives we are at risk of infections or being exposed to many types of diseases as we come into contact with other people and the polluted environment.
2. Propolis Platinum is plant based and functions to strengthen the body immune system. The flavonoids possessed by Propolis Platinum help to combat infections and diseases in a safer and natural way.
3. Due to its antioxidant properties, regular use of Propolis Platinum can help strengthen the body and keep the pathogens away.
